Hennings Will Be Senator

Piles Up Big Lead In St. Louis and Kansas City Over Donnell

By Larry Hall

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8—(P)—Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., St. Louis Democrat, ousted Republican Sen. Forrest C. Donnell today and Donnell sent him congratulations.

Hennings, who won last minute presidential support, picked up the only Senate seat gained by the Democrats. As final returns trickled in, he clung to a decisive lead of around 95,000 votes.

Donnell held on to a thin hope that he might come from behind as he has in the past. But just before noon (CST) he sent this message to the winner:

"Congratulations on your election. Best wishes to you in the performance of your duties as a United States Senator."

At the same time he issued a brief statement thanking his supporters and repeating his good wishes to Hennings.

With only 226 of the state's 4,676 precincts unreported, Hennings had 656,165, Donnell 562,019, a margin of 94,146. That represented all of St. Louis and Jackson county (Kansas City). They voted heavily for Hennings.

It also covered all but one precinct from Republican St. Louis county where Hennings held Donnell's lead to around 10,000—much less than Republicans expected.

Even In Rural Areas

Hennings piled up nearly a 70,000 lead in St. Louis and about 27,000 in Jackson county. At the same time he held even in many outstate rural areas which had been Donnell strongholds in the past.

As soon as Donnell conceded, Hennings issued a statement saying, "Now that the election is over, I want to represent all the people of Missouri."

He said the overshadowing issue was "the place of the United States of America in world affairs and its responsibility to the free people of the world. Our responsibility now is to see that we carry forward a strong foreign policy."

He expressed his thanks to those who worked and voted for him.

Although defeating Donnell, Democrats lost at least one seat in the Missouri House delegation. Two other Democratic incumbents were locked in tight races right down to the wire.

Rep. Raymond W. Karst, St. Louis county Democrat, was defeated by Thomas B. Curtis, Republican lawyer, in the usually Republican 12th Congressional district. Karst was an upset winner two years ago, when President Truman swept the state by 262,000 votes.

Race in the Third district of northwest Missouri and the Sixth of west central and southwestern Missouri were so close it looked like absentee ballots would have to decide them. Both are represented now by Democrats.

Defeat of Donnell was what President Truman wanted. The homestate Republican has been like a burr under the administration saddle in the Senate.

But the President's first choice to oust Donnell was defeated by Hennings in the primary. Not until last Saturday night, when he made his only campaign speech, did the President publicly endorse

Vote Split Tickets In County

Bryan Howe and James H. Green Led Tickets In The Balloting

Pettis countians went to the polls Tuesday and scratched their tickets, and so evenly was the vote divided that the unofficial totals show the voters favored eight Democrats and seven Republicans in this county. So close are some of the votes that the absentee ballots will no doubt be the deciding factor. There were 337 absentee ballots in the office of the county clerk this morning. They will probably be counted Thursday, then the official count will be made on Friday, or Saturday, James H. Green, county clerk, said this morning.

On the Democratic ticket Bryan Howe, seeking re-election as circuit clerk, led his ticket with a majority of 2,084 over his Republican opponent, Albert W. Newman. James H. Green, seeking re-election as county clerk, led the Republican ticket, with a majority of 1,866 over A. Hugh Janes, his Republican opponent.

Dan D. Doty, Democrat, seeking re-election as state representative, and A. M. Harlan, Democrat, candidate for probate judge, had no opponents.

While the votes cast for the school amendment were not tabulated here Tuesday night, it has carried in the county, the county clerk states. Also favorable in the county was the return of two judges, one to the Kansas City Court of Appeals, the other to the supreme court.

Christopher Lags In Sixth District

Apparent defeat of George H. Christopher, Democratic congressman from the sixth district is shown in belated returns from Tuesday's election when with four precincts unreported Armstrong was leading by 815 votes.

The count stood with 350 of the 354 precincts tabulated unofficially: Christopher, 51,817; Armstrong, 52,632.

In the second district Morgan M. Moulder, Democrat, was leading Max Schwabe by 46,735 to 41,521, with about 20 precincts to be reported.

Smashing defeats for such administration lieutenants as senators Scott W. Lucas of Illinois and Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania were attributed widely to voter dissatisfaction with the progress of the Korean war, opposition to President Truman's foreign decisions and his "fair deal" program, and reaction to Communists in government charges.

Truman Disappointed

Mr. Truman, relaxing aboard the yacht Williamsburg, was described as disappointed over these results but pleased with the size of the vote. The total figure is not yet known but apparently it was well over 40,000,000, a record.

"Of course he was disappointed," press secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters. He referred to the unseating of Lucas, who is the Senate majority leader, Myers and Senator Tydings (D-Md).

It was a victory parade for such Republican stalwarts as Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Senator Eugene Millikin of Colorado

Soviets Voice Disapproval US Intervention in Korea

Russia's Army Ordered to Tighten Up Combat Readiness in Red Celebration

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Soviet disapproval of United States intervention in Korea was emphasized sharply Tuesday in the celebration of the 33rd anniversary of the Russian Revolution. The Soviet armed forces were ordered to increase their vigilance and combat readiness.

Tanks, guns and troops of the Moscow garrison paraded across Red Square in foggy, drizzly weather which grounded the Soviet warplanes that usually do formation flying on such occasions.

Marshal Semeon Budyenny, a World War II hero and member of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet (parliament), declared in an address from the reviewing stand atop Lenin's tomb that western "imperialists" are preparing for a new war.

"Bandit US Intervention"

"The Anglo-American imperialists have now passed from preparations for aggression to direct acts of aggression, evidence of which is the bandit intervention of the United States in Korea," he said.

"The Soviet people, together with other freedom-loving peoples of the world, brand the American aggressor with shame and express their sympathy with the Korean people who are conducting a heroic struggle for the freedom and independence of their motherland."

Similar expressions came in orders of the day to the army and navy. These were issued by Marshall A. M. Vassilevsky, army minister, and Adm. I. S. Yumashev, naval minister.

"The American and British imperialists are pursuing the policy of instigating a new world war," Yumashev said. "From the threat of war they have gone over to open aggression in Korea."

Increase Vigilance

"Under these conditions, it is the sacred duty of naval forces constantly to increase the vigilance and combat readiness of ships and naval units."

Vassilevsky's order prefaced like phrases with the declaration "The Soviet people and their army are vigilantly following the machinations of the enemies of peace and continually remember the danger of war."

While the Russian press has charged before that the United States government intends to unleash a new war in the world, it has never been said quite so authoritatively or quite so repeatedly.

Western diplomatic observers in Moscow, therefore, are studying the phrases carefully. They indicate that they consider the words significant and serious.

and a Buy!

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why.

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has the bump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

It has Dynaflow Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

Community Day Observed

"Love Thy Neighbor" was the theme of the World Community Day observance held November 3 at the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed church, Fourth street and Vermont avenue.

The Rev. Wayne Rosecrans, pastor of the First Baptist church of Boonville, was the speaker. In speaking on the theme of the program he said: "Loving one's neighbor depends not so much on the attributes of the neighbor as upon ourselves. We love those most with whom we share most." He continued, "With our farthest neighbor less than two days distant, we have got to learn to love each other or we will blow ourselves out of existence. Our global future depends upon how many mature persons we can produce."

Mr. Rosecrans explained the Displaced Persons Program and said that at the close of the war 800,000 persons were classed loosely as displaced persons. Of

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Buhlig, who were married October 6, at the home of Rev. Roy Parker, 918 South Marvin avenue. The bride was formerly Miss Marcella Jones, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. ## Would Urge Withdrawal

U. S. In Direct Charge To U. N. On Chinese Reds

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 8—(P)—The United States today charged the Chinese Communists with direct military intervention in Korea, and urged the United Nations Security Council to require the Mao Tze-Tung regime to withdraw its forces.

Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, told the council there are indications that 30,000 Chinese Communist troops are in Korea and that the number is increasing. He said the United Nations should assist in settling any problems relating to Korea's northern frontier. Then he added:

"But in offering assurance, the Security Council must also see to it that the authorities in Peiping are under no illusion that their conduct is condoned by the United Nations or that the organized world community can accept this thinly disguised invasion of Korea."

"The Chinese Communists have imposed a grave danger upon the world—the danger that the present conflict may not be limited to the Korean area. The United Nations has done its best to avert this peril. The United States on its own behalf and in the exercise of the responsibilities of the unified command has made every effort to do the same. We have sought publicly to reassure the Chinese Communist regime that neither the United States nor the forces of the United Nations operating in Korea represent any threat to the territorial integrity or security of the legitimate interests of states which border on Korea."

"This council is the guardian of international peace and security and must require the Chinese Communist regime to withdraw its forces from Korea and to refrain from further unlawful assistance, direct or indirect, to the North Korean aggressor."

The Railton and Alexander dairy pasteurization plant is now open in the new Wonder Cream Drive-In building on Highway 50 west. It is the first pasteurization plant in California and the only one in Moniteau county.

California Chapter No. 58 Royal Arch Masons conferred the Most Excellent and Royal Arch degrees on ten candidates Friday, October 20. The class was designated the "J. T. Lee Class" in tribute to Mr. Lee who has been an active member of the Chapter since December 26, 1924. The degree work followed a dinner held at the American Legion home for about 60 persons. Lawrence Jones of Jefferson City was the dinner speaker. Bruce Hunt, grand lecturer of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Missouri helped with arrangements for initiating the class. John Rich and Earl DeHaven of Jefferson City also helped with the work. Frank Jones gave the Royal Arch lecture and J. E. Steiner the Most Excellent Master Degree. Other members of the local chapter carrying the principal parts of the program were: Mr. Lee, George P. Stegner and Dr. E. G. Hull. The members of the class were: Edward Roy McDaniel, Cromer Hutchinson, Carl Henry Steiner, LeRoy Howe, Clayton S. Holt, Alfred Louis Gates, Carver George Laughlin, Charles Marion Bolin, Hobart Frederick Dahler and Harold Jacob Steiner.

The first of three health clinics was held in the California school building Tuesday afternoon with more than 250 children from schools in the eastern half of the county attending. The children received vaccinations and inoculations for smallpox, typhoid, tetanus and diphtheria. Mrs. Kenyon Latham, E. A. Kibbe and Richard Fulks were assisted by Mrs. Frances Hemphill, public health nurse from Sedalia. P. T. A. mothers who assisted with the records and handling the children were: Mrs. Harold Friedmeyer, Mrs. W. S. Lemen, Mrs. Ray Eckert, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Ray Ehler and Mrs. Raymond Sterling.

The Thrifty Homemakers extension club met last Friday at the home of Mrs. Elsie McDaniels.

The ten members and Mrs. Willis Gabriel, a guest, made a United Nations flag which will be displayed at the Clarksburg post office. Mrs. George Oesterly became a new member. Mrs. Marvin Fisher gave a talk on Parent Education.

Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. A. B. York were co-hostesses at a dessert bridge at the home of Miss Jen Morrison last Thursday afternoon. Covers were laid for 24. High score favors were presented to Mrs. E. R. Cole, Mrs. H. E. Priess and Mrs. M. F. York.

Mrs. A. L. Gates, district deputy grand matron of the 31st district of the Eastern Star, Mrs. E. A. McColister, worthy matron of the California chapter and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilson attended a party honoring Mrs. Viola Coffman, Grand Esther of the Grand Chapter of the State of Missouri.

They Fly With Or Without Wings

By NEA Service

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Like busmen on holidays, a couple of big-time commercial airline pilots spend their days off—you guessed it—flying through the air.

The difference, however, is that Kim Scribner and Marshall Wayne do their off-time flying without their planes.

Who Are We, Anyway?

Subject came up at Bill Webster's, the other day, as we were chatting over beer and pretzels. Just who are the folks who make up our town? Where'd they come from?

Well, Doc Hollister's Scotch-English ancestry; Will Dutchie's folks were mining stock from Pennsylvania; Skip Powell's family were brewers back in Holland.

Guess our bloodstream's got a bit of every country of the globe—and every section of America. We've still got differences in taste and background—whether they apply to music, history, or beer. Only those when he's not gliding, he's a chief pilot for Pan American, flying to London, Johannesburg and Hong Kong.

Wayne goes Scribner one better. He does his off-duty flying without any wings at all.

That's the way he started, too.

He began as a high diving champion (he won the Olympic high diving crown in 1936) and didn't take to planes until later. He was an Army pilot during the war and now flies for the same line as Scribner as a co-pilot on planes.

Between trips, he takes off from the diving board at an aquashow on Long Island.

Take To Air For Blasting of North Korea Near Border

Demolition class ads get results! Largest, estimated at 125 vehicles, was moving south toward Chongju, on the west coast 50 air miles southeast of Sinuiju.

Destroy 30 Trucks

Another flight spotted 75 to 100 trucks rolling south in the Sakchu sector near Suioh dam. A third flight destroyed 30 trucks loaded with ammunition and gasoline eight miles south of Sakchu.

Allied ground troops deployed along a new 60-mile front in the northwest. The line ran from the Anju bridgehead over the Chongchon river northwest to Pakchon then eastward to Yongdong in north central Korea.

On the left flank the British Commonwealth 27th Brigade and the U.S. 24th Infantry Division advanced up to four miles. The Americans found they had killed hundreds of Reds as they retook ground they lost last week.

In the Yongdon area east of Pakchon, the U.S. Second Division fought for a 943-foot hill four miles northeast of the city.

American artillery aided South Korean First Division elements in disposing of 700 Reds flushed out three and a half miles southwest of Pakchon.

South of the Chongchon river the South Korean Seventh Division advanced as much as two miles northward. It met no resistance in building up the U.N. defense line northeast of Pyongyang.

The South Korean Sixth Division reported 240 men and 11 officers of its battered Seventh Regiment had returned safely. The regiment, which reached the Manchurian border before the Reds recoiled, had been written off as lost.

For the most part Chinese and North Korean Reds contented themselves with light probing attacks in the northwest and central sectors.

In northeast Korea, U.S. First Marine Division elements moved more than a mile up the Changjin river gorge without running into Reds. They were near a plateau overlooking the Changjin power reservoir.

Marine planes had bated the withdrawing 124th Division.

Reach Wreck In Which 22 Died

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 8.—(P)—A curtain of snow lifted on the Continental Divide today long enough for searchers to reach the burned wreckage of an airliner which carried 22 persons to their death in a blizzard.

Ground parties reached the Northwest Airlines plane at 11:25 a.m. (CST). They reported the four crewmen and the 18 passengers were dead.

Ground searchers got to the wreckage within two hours after Butte Police Chief Bart J. Riley relayed a search radio report that a helicopter had sighted the missing craft.

Officials at the Butte airport pinpointed the scene of the crash at six miles due east of the field.

Control By Slight Margin

No less decisive were the reelection victories wrapped up by Republican governors Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California, who won third terms in their statehouses.

Comfort In Hennings Victory

The Democrats could salvage some comfort out of the fact that President Truman's home state elected Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., to the Senate over Republican Senator Forrest Donnell. Donnell was the only ballot box casualty among present Republican senators.

The Democrats also could take solace in the fact that they ward off GOP Senate control by electing senators Brien McMahon and William Benton in Connecticut and by the victory of Senator Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, who also was a candidate of the Liberal party, in New York.

They lost the New York City mayor's post, however, to Vincent Impellitteri, who ran as an independent when he was denied the Democratic nomination.

But in this year's counting, Hennings took an early lead, then lengthened it. As the number of remaining precincts shrank, it became increasingly certain that Hennings had won.

By early this morning, it would have been necessary for Donnell to get all the outstanding votes. And they weren't running that way, even in his former rural Missouri strongholds.

The missing precincts were about evenly divided between counties which had been going for Hennings and those giving Donnell the edge. Most of them were in scattered rural areas with no big blocs in any one county.

Some Close Races

Although the Democrats upset Donnell, they lost at least one Congressman and three other Democratic incumbents were tangled in neck and neck races.

Hennings For Freedom to All

By John R. Hahn

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8.—(P)—Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., came down to greet reporters after five hours sleep this morning and grudgingly conceded that he would be the next Senator from Missouri.

He did it reluctantly, indirectly.

Informed that his lead was almost 100,000 over Republican incumbent Forrest C. Donnell, with only 307 scattered rural precincts unreported, the senator said:

"On the face of returns up to this point the Democrats have apparently won a victory in Missouri."

He made it a little stronger when a reporter asked him what he thought really did it.

"Our friends and the people who had confidence in us and our expressed declarations of principle," replied the new 47-year-old senator. His manner became serious.

Asked if he referred to his urging President Truman to veto the McCarran anti-subversives bill, which he did in the midst of his campaign, he said:

"I believe that we must remember at all times that our effort to preserve freedom everywhere must be done within the framework of our Constitution and our Bill of Rights—lest our efforts fail through our lack of grasp of our great concepts of government."

He said firmly that he was going to be opposed to any measures that tend to restrict freedom of thought and expression and those contrary to the "great truths" of the American concept of government.

The Hennings triumph represented the single instance of the election where a Democrat unseated an incumbent Republican senator.

While he had received President Truman's endorsement last Saturday night, his victory was partly a personal one.

News Story To Club In Film

The Sedalia Lions Club at its noonday meeting Wednesday were entertained with the showing of "The Newspaper Story" through the courtesy of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital. The picture was shown by Claude Boul, who was a guest of the club.

The picture depicted the operation of a daily newspaper, through the various departments until the paper is run off its presses and placed in the hands of the newsboys on the street.

James Van Wagner was program chairman.

Chris Moore was introduced as a new member and Roy Schick, former secretary of the club, was a reinstated member by James Sherman. Guest today was Wayne Luce, Beaver Falls, Penn., of his cousins, Cline and Robert Cain.

Lloyd Phillips, vice-president, presided over the meeting in the absence of President Kenneth Buchholz.

No less decisive were the re-election victories wrapped up by Republican governors Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California, who won third terms in their statehouses.

Comfort In Hennings Victory

The Democrats could salvage

some comfort out of the fact that

President Truman's home state elected Thomas C. Hennings, Jr.,

to the Senate over Republican

Senator Forrest Donnell. Donnell was the only ballot box casualty

among present Republican senators.

A ballot measure to legalize gambling was snowed under by a

3 to 1 margin.

Warren's return to another four years in office was never in doubt.

Roosevelt, eldest son of the late

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, failed to challenge the popular chief executive in even democratic Los Angeles county.

The Governor, in incomplete returns, carried all 58 counties. He is the first ever given a third term.

Only one other, the late Hiram W.

Johnson, also a Republican, was elected to a second.

Roosevelt conceded at midnight.

He sent his "sincere congratulations to the executive mansion in Sacramento, where the usual election night cheer was missing.

Doctors discovered only yesterday that blond Nina "Honey Bear" Warren, 17, one of six Warren children, had infantile paralysis.

Both of her legs are paralyzed.

Her condition is critical.

Warren thanked California for his tremendous vote. He promised to "continue to do my best to be a good governor for all the people."

It was the only campaign promise he made.

Gave no hint as to any future ambitions. His party's 1948 nomininee for vice president, he already had been mentioned as a 1952 prospect.

And although Democrats remain in nominal control of the Congress, the real majorities in both Senate and House are composed of men whose thinking on economic matters runs closer to that of Senator Taft than to that of Mr. Truman.

On issues of that nature, many southern Democrats—in both

House and Senate—can be expected to leave the administration.

He gave no hint as to any measures that tend to restrict freedom of thought and expression and those contrary to the "great

General Questions Chinese Reds

Maj. Gen. Edward E. Almond (second from right), commander of the U. S. Tenth Corps, questions a Chinese Communist prisoner through an interpreter (left) at the Korean front north of Hamhung. The prisoner, wounded in battle, wears a head bandage. Another Chinese Red stands at right. The prisoners reported they had been in Korea two months after recruiting in Mukden and had been defending the Changjin reservoir. (AP Wirephoto)

Wrestling Matches At Armory Tonight

Tonight, Marshall Esteppe, Sturgeon, Mo., and "The Great" Moto, Tokyo, Japan, clash in the feature event on the weekly wrestling card at the National Guard Armory. The opening match starts at 8:15 o'clock.

In the semi-wind-up "Killer" Jerry Meeker, Missoula, Mont., and Frank Shrofro, St. Louis, will meet. This is anticipated as an exceptionally good match for the ringsiders.

A Marshall, Mo., lad will return to the local ring in Jimmy Sears, who will meet "Bad Boy" Brown of Shreveport, La., in the opening event on the card.

J. N. Avery Quits As Chicago Chairman

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(P)—Jacob M. Arvey quit today as Democratic chairman of Cook county (Chicago).

"This is the last campaign I shall ever manage, he told newsmen.

He said his physician told him to quit last April, but he had made promises to stay on.

He is expected to continue in politics, however. He may become national committeeman from Illinois, succeeding the late Edward J. Kelly, former mayor.

Arvey said the Korean war was a big reason for the Illinois Democratic defeat. He said:

Chronic Constipation Corrected By Scientific Discovery

At last, after years of research by Medical Men, in test after test, UNI-LAX, a new scientific discovery, produced amazing results on patients of all ages suffering from the most chronic aggravated Constipation.

Recent Tests Prove

UNI-LAX has given many blessed relief from the agonies of hard constipated matter that scratched their delicate intestines, caused piles and even rupture. Chronic constipation that bloated them up made them overweight and sapped their vitality.

After a few short days many of them, the soft, like new people. A Nun who had been constipated for years said she was now having the most satisfactory bowel movement she could remember.

Many people who had been taking "Barrels of laxatives" (to use their expression) claimed UNI-LAX did them more good than anything they had ever tried.

Other Laxatives

Don't expect UNI-LAX to give you the drastic reaction that ties your stomach in knots, gives you cramps and diarrhea, leaves you cold and irritable. Extra harsh and inflamed UNI-LAX is so gentle and safe, it is recommended for people suffering from Diabetic and Rectal Irritations. It is also recommended for children, pregnant and nursing mothers.

UNI-LAX is not designed for the temporary emergency relief offered by harsh purgatives. It is a Scientific Formula in a tasteless tablet that turns into a soft jelly when it reaches the intestines. Because it acts so naturally, it will take from 3 to 5 days to correct your condition.

COLON ILLUSTRATION

ABNORMAL COLON showing

Atonic Constipation

100% GUARANTEE

Relief is yours for the asking. If you want healthy regularly, ask your druggist for UNI-LAX today. It is gentle, effective and will give you the most satisfactory bowel function you have had in years.

WE GUARANTEE it to be Non-Toxic, Non Habit Forming and Entirely Harmless.

CUTBACK ON POTATOES—The government has warned potato growers that they must trim next year's output by 21 per cent—31,000,000 bushels—to avoid surpluses which would force down prices. Congress has ruled out potato price guarantees after 1950 because of the storm of protest over the government's practice of buying up and destroying spuds to keep prices at a so-called fair level. Newschart above gives potato production figures for 1948-51.

Pancho, the Pampered Ringtail

It's an easy life for Pancho, the ring-tailed monkey of Mr. and Mrs. William Martitz of Milwaukee, Wis. Born in the wilds of Colombia, Pancho receives all the care and attention of the average growing child.

Time for what?

Not bad, once you're in.

And so to bed—with his own toy doll.

Family Help Starts Most Farm Owners and sale of land and equipment, often at low prices.

Scouts at Combines SHELLBROOK, Sask. — (P) — Alex Pearson of Merchant Grove is getting better wheat grades than neighboring farmers. He says it's because he threshes his grain instead of using a combine. When frost came he lighted straw piles and the warm smoke protected his grain from damage.

AMES, Ia.—(P)—A survey made by Iowa State College in a typical central Iowa county showed that in Iowa farmers are born, not made. More than half of those surveyed reported they relied on members of their family to provide them with their first farm.

On the other hand, only six percent of those surveyed started farming purely by investing their savings. Robert A. Rohrer, sociology professor, observed:

"When people argue that it's possible to start farming on a hired man's savings, they may be right. But our results show that very few have done it."

At the same time, he said, it does not mean that because a young farmer got his place through family help that he was given his start. Some were gifts, the survey showed, but most of the family help was in the form of loans, some at very low interest, use of land and equipment under very favorable conditions.

Bill Hammond was auctioneer.

Bicycle Enthusiast

TORONTO — (P) — Basil Rayham of suburban Weston has been in an automobile only six times in his life and on a streetcar only seven times. But on a bicycle—that's different. The wiry 51-year-old has logged about 300,000 miles through England, Canada and the United States since 1914.

When he came here from England in 1923, he had travelled only 50,000 miles, but has made up for it since then. Trips to South Carolina, Quebec City and the Adirondacks added to his score. His favorite pedalling grounds still are in Ontario, however.

Reynolds Is Near to Record

Look To Some To Be Shattered At Iowa State

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8—(P)—Bobby Reynolds is just 89 yards short of a Big Seven conference rushing record for one season.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers' sensational sophomore halfback figures to beat the record of 1098 by Missouri's Bob Steuber in a game with Kansas State at Lincoln Saturday.

Steuber got his yardage in 10 games in 1942. Ramblin' Robert has a net of 1010 yards in six starts this season and has three more games to go.

Reynolds also appears a cinch to break Steuber's scoring record of 121 points for one season. Reynolds has 15 touchdowns and 13 conversions for 103 points. Steuber scored 18 touchdowns and 13 punts in 1942.

There likely will be two more Big Seven records shattered in Iowa State's non-conference game with Drake at Ames Saturday.

Bill Weeks, Iowa State's senior quarterback, will be after his own forward passing record of 1247 yards set last year. Weeks has completed 75 for 1111 yards in 7 games. He has three more to play. Weeks' battery-mate, end Jim Doran, continues well ahead in the class of pass catchers he's gobbled in 32 for 518 yards. Last season he led the conference with 34 receptions and 669 yards, also a conference record.

The more important game of the week in the midlands will find Kansas' sharp ground game trying to crack a rugged Oklahoma defense at Lawrence.

Boasting a 27-game victory streak, 3 of them in the conference this season, Oklahoma will be favored to win, but a Kansas victory wouldn't be out of reason.

Statisticians were busy today shuffling the files to determine whether Kansas Wade Stinson set a Big Seven rushing record in the game with Utah last Saturday. Stinson wheeled the ball 239 yards in 24 tries. Available records show Missouri's Harry Ice with 218 yards for one game in 1941. Ice used only 11 plays against Kansas for that mark.

At Columbia, Mo., fullback Merwin Hodel will carry Colorado hopes of beating the Missouri Tigers. Hodel is second in the conference in scoring with 66 points and fourth in rushing, 539.

Sawyer Is Year Manager

By Joe Rechler

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(P)—Affable Eddie Sawyer, a former college professor who never played an inning in the big leagues, today was voted baseball's "Manager of the Year" in a nationwide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The bald, ever-smiling Sawyer, who led the Philadelphia Phillies to their first pennant in 35 years last season, edged out Casey Stengel of the world champion New York Yankees in a close battle.

Sawyer was named on 164 of the 381 ballots cast by sports writers and sportscasters. Stengel, who won the honor in 1949, received 134 votes to finish a close second.

Four other field leaders received recognition. Red Rolfe, who did a brilliant job in bringing the Detroit Tigers home second to the Yankees in the American League race, was third with 51 votes. Leo Durocher's feat in directing the New York Giants to third place in the National League race won him fourth place with 23 votes. Steve O'Neill, who replaced Joe McCarthy in June and righted the Boston Red Sox, got five votes. Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators received four.

Tuesday's Sports In Brief

By The Associated Press

Baseball
TORONTO—Joe Becker, former Jersey City manager, was named pilot of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

Racing

NEW YORK—Siama ($10.90) won the $25,000 Comely handicap at Jamaica.

INGLEWOOD, Calif.—Star Fiddle (58.30) won the $25,000 Premier handicap at Hollywood Park.

BALTIMORE—Set Free ($17.80) captured the feature race at Pimlico.

LINCOLN, R. I.—Task ($7.00) won the mile feature at Lincoln Downs.

Rickey Joins Pirates

Branch Rickey, baseball's wonder man who recently quit the Brooklyn Dodgers, shakes hands with two new associates in Pittsburgh as he became executive vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. ## Tenacious Tackler

James Linniger, Kansas State end, makes a one-handed tackle as he holds on tenaciously to haul down Jerry Cimburek, 190-pound Iowa State back, in their Big Seven conference game at Manhattan, Kas. Foreign Policy To Also Figure Strong In New Congress

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(P)—Huge spending to bolster America's military might and perhaps record high taxes to help pay for it shaped up today as the top issues in the new Congress meeting in January.

Foreign policy will figure importantly in the debate, too. And the Communists-in-government dispute may be revived with new vigor.

Closely tied to those key issues are a number of others in the general defense picture which are likely to keep on the shelf indefinitely most of President Truman's domestic "fair deal" program.

The emphasis all along the line when the 82nd Congress takes over is likely to be on strengthening this country against Communist aggression.

Government spending during the year starting next July 1 probably will run well over $50,000,000,000. There has been some talk the new budget may total as much as $65,000,000,000, with by far the biggest share earmarked for defense.

In contrast, federal spending this year may add up to about $42,500,000,000. Appropriations are higher, but may not be fully spent.

Taxes already have been hiked $4,700,000,000 to help meet the added defense costs. In the mill is an excess profits tax bill expected to provide another $4,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 from business.

"Lame Duck" Session
A "lame duck" session of the expiring 81st Congress, scheduled later this month, may act on that measure. If it doesn't, the bill will have a top priority in the new Congress.

Besides deciding how many billions of dollars to provide for the U.S. military machine, the 82nd Congress faces a decision on how much economic and arms aid to furnish to anti-Communist nations abroad.

Also ahead in the broad national defense field are decisions on:

1. Whether to set up universal military training of American youths.

2. Continuing and possibly broadening the draft law. It expires next July 9.

3. Extension of the economic controls program, including authority for wage-price curbs and perhaps rationing of some consumer goods. Most of the present authority will run out next June 30.

Between now and then there probably will be much more debate over whether Mr. Truman should exercise his authority to control prices and wages.

4. Extension and tightening of the rent control law. Controls expire Dec. 31 unless local areas elect to continue them another six months.

One issue regarded as certain to pop up in the new Congress is the Communist control law put on the books last September over Mr. Truman's veto.

The upset defeat of veteran Democratic Senator Millard E. Tydings in yesterday's election points up the possibility of the Communists-in-government row exploding again.

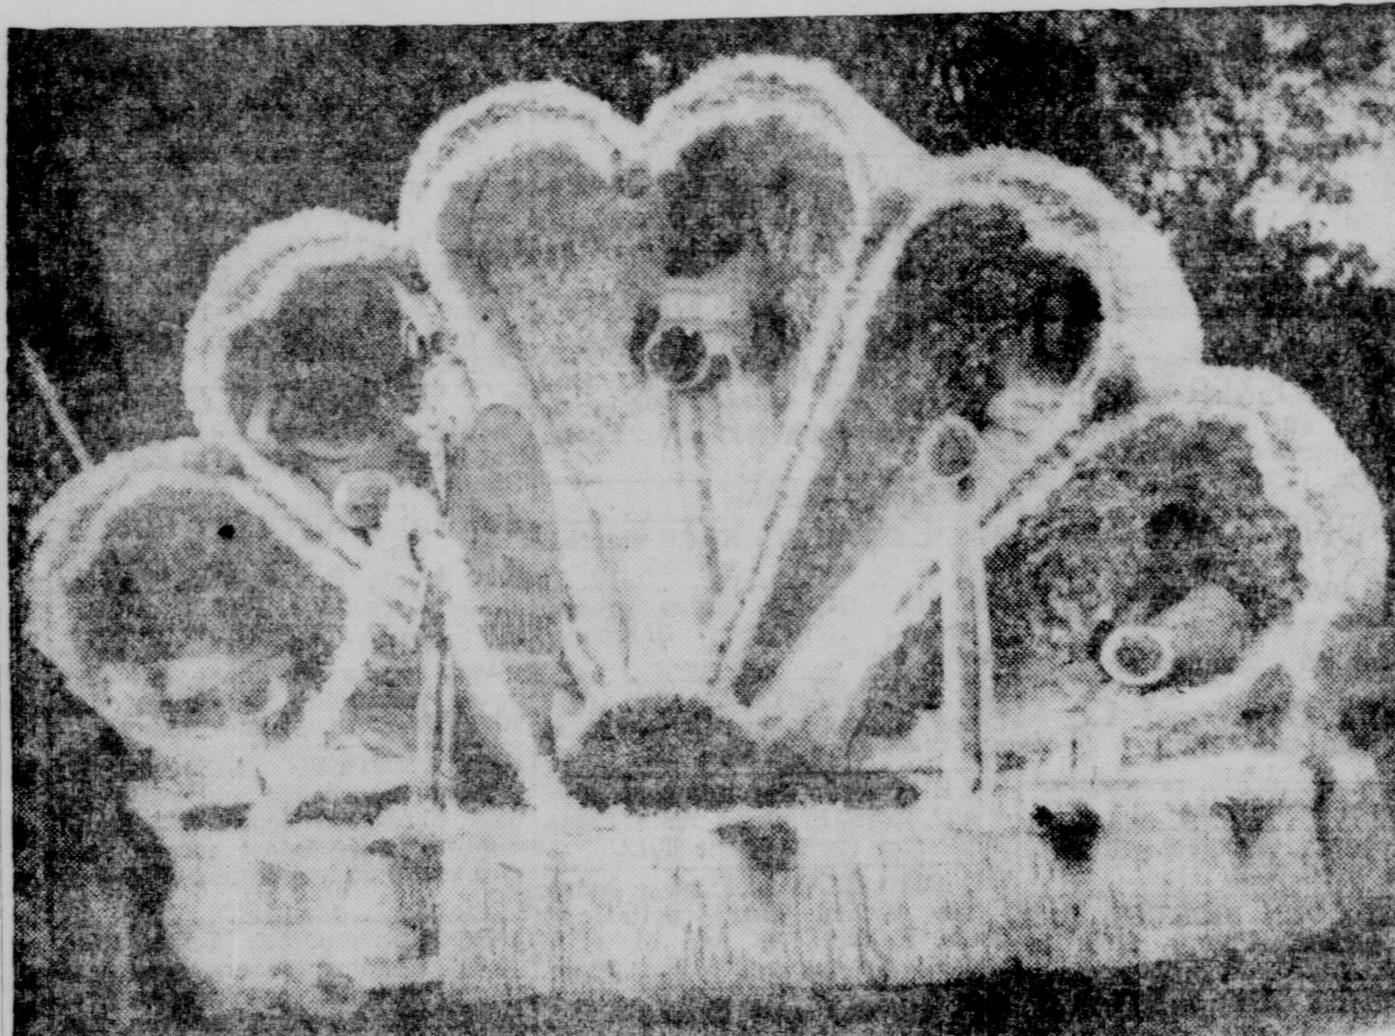

Tydings, who was trying for a fifth term, headed the Democratic-controlled Senate committee which investigated charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Communists infested the State Department. The committee majority labeled the charges "a fraud and a hoax."

McCarthy and other Republicans accused the Democrats of conducting a whitewash. McCarthy campaigned against Tydings and has said repeatedly he intends to keep hammering away on the Communist issue.

That issue also is sure to crop up in foreign policy debate in Congress, as it did during the campaign. Republicans asserted and Democrats denied that the Truman administration had in effect encouraged Communist aggression.

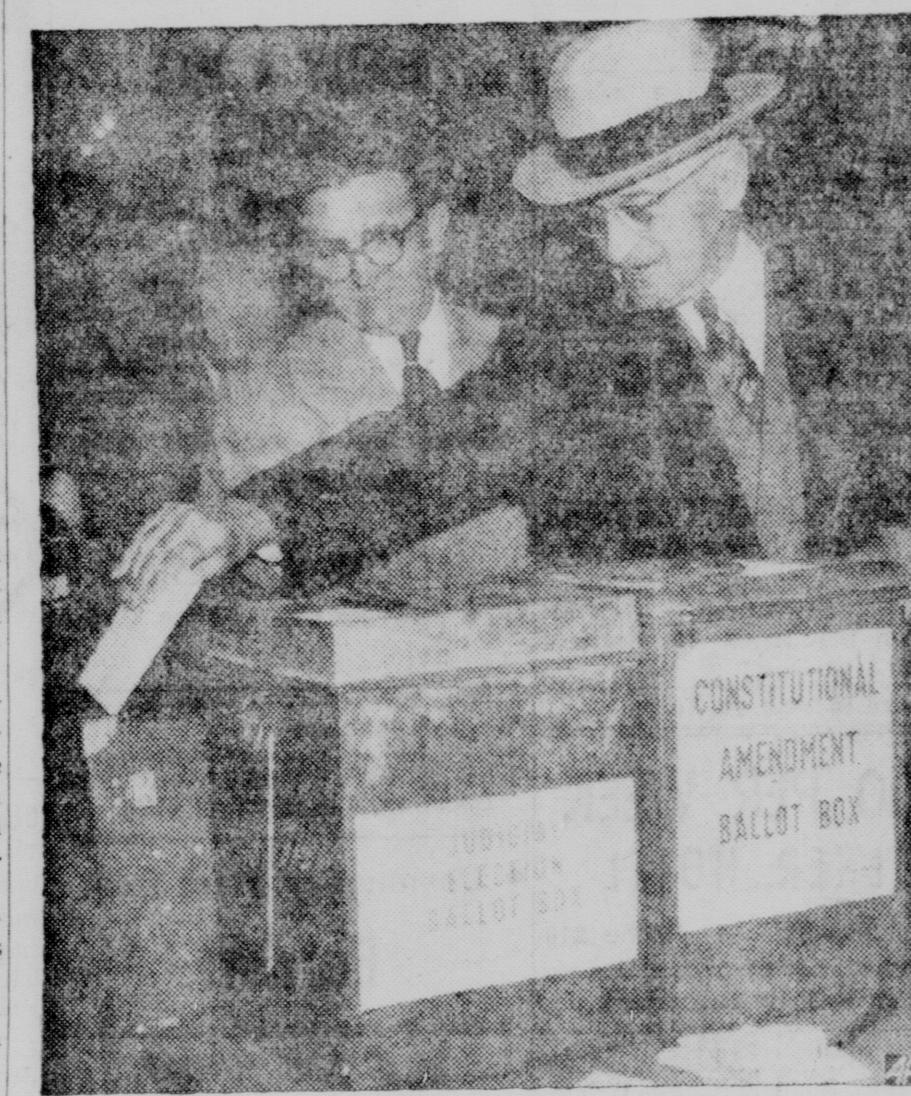

The defeat of the Senate Democratic leader, Scott W. Lucas of Illinois, is almost certain to prompt new Republican attacks on the Truman administration's handling of foreign policy. That

New Dean For The Women In U. S. Congress

By Ruth Cowan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(P)—Women of Congress have a new dean.

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, the 69-year-old Republican lawmaker from Lowell, Mass., won her 14th term in the House in yesterday's voting.

Since 1925 Mrs. Rogers, always with a fresh flower corsage on her shoulder, has been outranked by four months in length of service by Rep. Mary T. Norton (D-N.J.). But Mrs. Norton, veteran of many a legislative scrap, didn't choose to run again this time.

In California, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democrat and three-time winner of a seat in the House, lost her try for the Senate against Rep. Richard M. Nixon, Republican.

In Indiana Mrs. Cecil Harden, Republican, won reelection to her second term.

Mrs. Frances Bolton, Republican, won her seventh term in Ohio.

But in Connecticut Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, Democrat, lost her bid for reelection.

In New York, two Democratic hopefuls, Mrs. Mildred McGill of Gouverneur and Miss Mary Louise Nick of Tonawanda, lost their first try for the House.

And in Massachusetts, another Democrat, Mrs. Anna Sullivan was defeated in her first campaign for the House.

In the nation's first woman-against-woman race for the House, Mrs. Reva Beck Bosone, incumbent Democrat, defeated Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest in Utah.

Untroubled by ballot-box worries this year was Senator Margaret Chase Smith, (R-Me.) whose term does not expire until 1955. She is the only woman member of the Senate.

with her male opponent, Howard Pyle, Republican.

There will be one new fanning face in the House at least.

Mrs. Marguerite S. Church, widow of Rep. Ralph Church (R-III), who died of a heart attack a few months ago, won election to his post.

Mrs. Edna F. Kelley (D-N.Y.), who ran for her second term in the House, was the first woman in the field of 18 women candidates for Congress to cross the finish line.

Mrs. Kelley, the first woman ever sent to Congress from New York City, was reelected before midnight.

Shortly after returns gave a third term to Mrs. Katherine St. George (D-N.Y.).

In Indiana Mrs. Cecil Harden, Republican, won reelection to her second term.

Mrs. Frances Bolton, Republican, won her seventh term in Ohio.

But in Connecticut Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, Democrat, lost her bid for reelection.

In New York, two Democratic hopefuls, Mrs. Mildred McGill of Gouverneur and Miss Mary Louise Nick of Tonawanda, lost their first try for the House.

Miss Farnsworth Of Air Lines Vstor

Miss Anna Farnsworth, Jacksonville, Fla., a radio operator for the Eastern Air Lines, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. J. R. Ramey, 1709 South Prospect avenue. Miss Farnsworth left Sunday for St. Louis, where she will visit friends for a few days, before going by plane to Chicago, Ill. From Chicago she will go to her home in Florida.

While in Sedalia, Miss Farnsworth and her mother, Mrs. J. R. Ramey, went to Kansas City Thursday evening, where they visited Mrs. Farnsworth's brother, John M. Farnsworth, and family. Dinner guests in the home Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Dugan and daughters, Dorothy Jean, Phillip and Beverly and Mr. and Mrs. Kidrin Godfrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramey and Miss Farnsworth were dinner guests in the J. L. Smart home in Kansas City Saturday evening.

U. S. Faces Tan Bark Trouble

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Tannin for U. S. leather from domestic sources is in short supply. And the supply is likely to get shorter, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

Even now, about two thirds of the tannin used in the United States is imported. And much of the current domestic supply comes from dead chestnut trees. The chestnuts were killed by a blight. They are not likely to be replaced—certainly not in time to supply more tannin in the next few years.

Chestnut oak and hemlock bark also can be used. The department has set up a program to show foresters how to treat such bark to get more and better tannin from it.

Article Given On Sedalia Motels

Motels and Courts, a national monthly publication in its November issue contains a story pertaining to Sedalia, Missouri's three new motels. The story is headed "Three in Sedalia, Missouri."

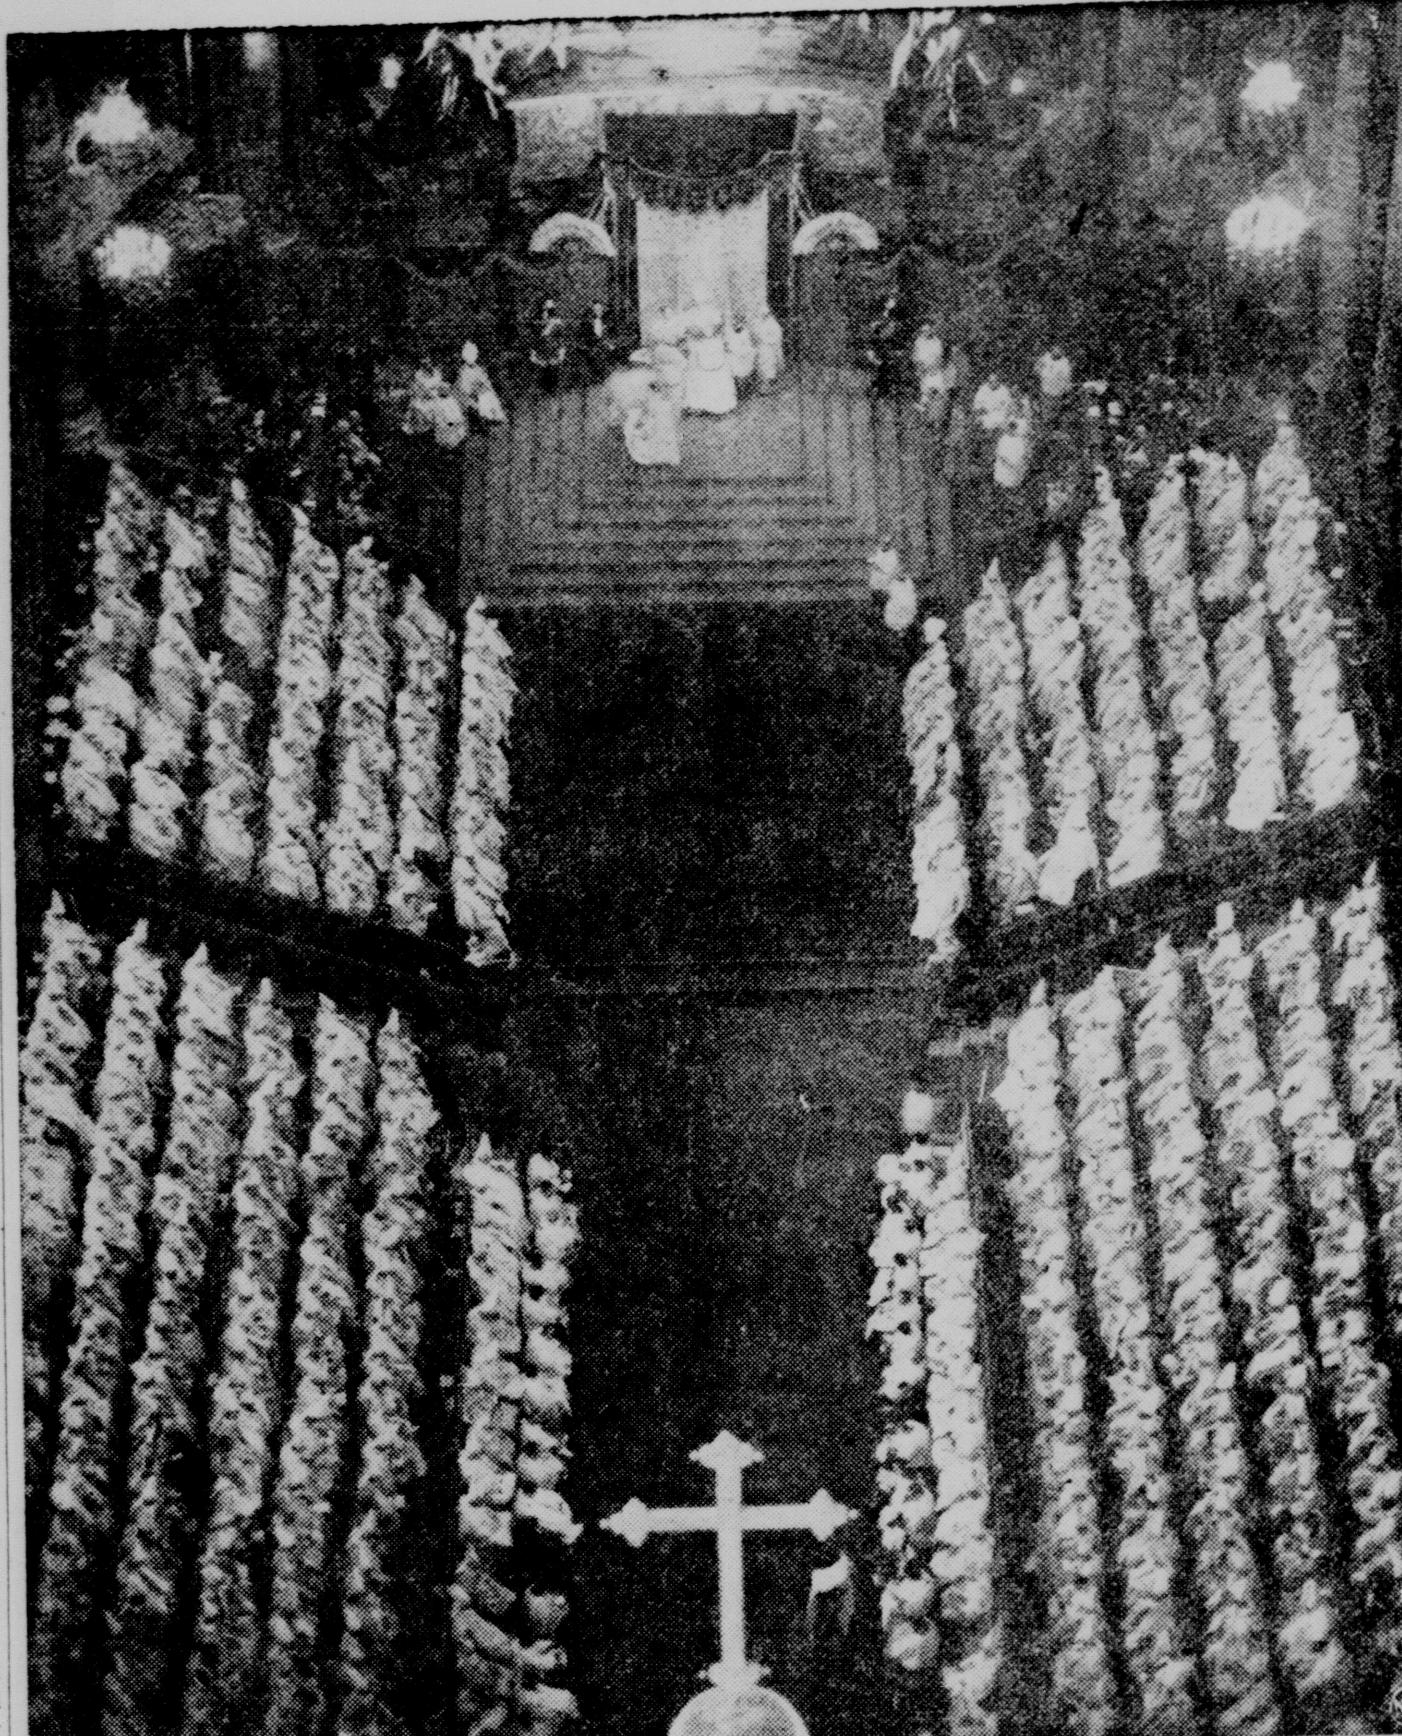

"Highways 65 and 50 cross in Sedalia, Missouri, and up until last spring there were no motels in this town of more than 21,000 population. While motels sprang up all over the country, nobody built one near Sedalia and though the people of the town were a bit disturbed about it they were not nearly so disturbed as the traveling public who like motels.

"Then this spring the plans of three Sedalia men were carried out. They all decided to build motels about the same time.

"The finest of the three, and one of the finest in the United States, was opened on July 9, by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillips. It is located one-fourth mile west of the Sedalia city limits on highway 50." The story continued on describing the Sedalia Motel with its twenty units and the services rendered.

"The opening of the first motel was on May 15," the story continues, "it is the Morris El Ranch. It was built by Mr. and Mrs. Wess Morris who also had cabins east of Sedalia. It is located two miles west of Sedalia on Highway 50." This story also told of the 22 units and furnishings.

"The third motel, which is smaller, is the Boots Motel, and located on Highway 50 at the west city limits." The story was written before this motel was completed. However, the motel was completed the latter part of August and contains ten units.

HISTORIC MASS—This was the impressive scene inside St. Peter's Basilica as Pope Pius XII said mass to conclude the ceremony of the proclamation of the dogma of Assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven. The Pope is flanked by the greatest assemblage of Roman Catholic prelates in the 2000-year history of the Church. Outside the Basilica, an estimated 700,000 people jammed the square to overflowing during the historic ceremony.

This Is the Army (1950):
Canasta Takes Place of Poker,
But GIs Still Ogle Gals

DEUCES WILD, but it isn't poker, which you'd expect these servicemen to be playing. Canasta seems to be the game for 1950's GIs at service clubs, successor to the USO. Busily melding here at the club in Newport, R. I., are (left to right) Ken Maleitske, Lansing, Mich.; Natalie Dring, Newport; Carolyn Fraser, Middletown, R. I., and Garry Monroe, Pasadena, Calif.

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—This new Army is really something. The boys are all playing Canasta now. Maybe they're still playing poker on the blanket-covered foot-lockers in the barracks, but in service clubs poker is running way behind.

Associated Services for the Armed Forces, which took over when the USO was de-activated last January, now runs 114 clubs in 28 states in this country and 10 areas abroad. Most of the sailors and soldiers are still in their teens, which may account for the changes in taste since the World War II days.

Besides the Canasta craze, today's service club servicemen are a far cry from the jitterbug-happy boys of the early 1940's. Nowadays, ASAFAF reports, the soldiers prefer slow dancing and square dancing. And they like to rhumba and samba, too. Be-bop lovers are few and far between.

The present crop of soldiers and sailors appears to be more serious than the World War II GIs, too. For one thing, they like the classes and forums which many service clubs are including in their program. ASAFAF believes this is because many of the boys haven't finished high school.

Actually, however, the service clubs run by ASAFAF are pretty much the same as the old USOs. Table tennis is still popular, and so are bowling and swimming in the clubs large enough to have alleys and pools. Lounging on the easy chairs, with a new magazine, remains one of the off-duty serviceman's favorite sports.

And gazing at, talking and dancing with the pretty hostesses is an indoor sport that never loses its appeal.

ASAFAF clubs were confronted with some big problems when the Korean war began. Its volunteer workers mailed home many boxes of civilian clothes for the boys who were about to ship overseas. A few had to cope with an even bigger shipping order—sending home some GI's cars.

Other extra-curricular concerns of the service clubs are the service wives and families. Finding apartments and hotel rooms, arranging transportation and heating baby bottles are all part of an average day at a service club. Some clubs have even organized day nurseries and baby-sitter groups of volunteers to help out the young mothers and uninformed fathers.

When the USO went out of business, three of the six agencies that had formed it felt that some sort of continuation was necessary. The three—the YMCA, National Catholic Community Service and National Jewish Welfare Board—united to form ASAFAF.

Now that the Armed Forces are continuing to expand, they're glad they did so. And so are most of the servicemen.

Truman Plans Startling
Cabinet-Supreme Court Changes

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON.—Now that the elections are over, President Truman is considering important cabinet changes. He will also be faced with important vacancies on the Supreme Court. As a result, he is contemplating the most sensational shift he has made since he eased out various Roosevelt cabinet members right after FDR's death. The double-play between the cabinet and the Supreme Court involves:

1. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who will resign.

2. Chief Justice Fred Vinson, scheduled to take Acheson's place.

3. Justice Felix Frankfurter, who will resign. Acheson will then be appointed to his Supreme Court seat.

4. Justice William O. Douglas, who expects to resign—probably to replace General Eisenhower as president of Columbia University.

5. Attorney General Howard McGrath, who will be appointed to the Supreme Court.

6. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who will probably resign. Discussed as his successor are New York Attorney Morris Ernst and Stuart Symington.

7. Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews, who will be made ambassador to Ireland. George Killian, head of the American President lines, will take his place.

While these switches will not occur at once, the most important—the exit of Dean Acheson—will probably take place within 60 days.

Acheson and Vinson

Truman is more fond of Acheson personally than of anyone else in the cabinet—except Secretary Marshall. He has told friends that he believes history will show Acheson to be one of our greatest secretaries of state. However, he also fears that Acheson, because of his defense of Alger Hiss, will never be able to regain public confidence. Furthermore, Acheson, physically exhausted, has wanted to resign.

Meanwhile, Acheson's old professor at the Harvard law school, Felix Frankfurter, has been toying with the idea of stepping down from the Supreme Court, and may time his resignation with Acheson's so the latter can be appointed to his seat.

Also, though a closely guarded secret, Chief Justice Vinson has been briefed at least once a week on foreign policy. He is invited to the White House frequently, and Truman has even been asking distinguished foreign visitors to confer with Vinson.

The fact that the President picked Vinson to go to Moscow in October, 1948, was no accident. He has long had the greatest respect and affection for the Chief Justice. And though he called off the Vinson mission to Moscow, Truman has privately expressed regret that he did so.

Howard McGrath, now attorney general, is scheduled to be appointed to the Vinson court vacancy, though not necessarily to the chief justiceship. It is more likely that Justice Hugo Black will receive this honor.

Meanwhile, Justice Douglas has been sounded out by Columbia University about succeeding Eisenhower. In fact, while Ike was in Washington conferring with Truman, Douglas was in New York conferring with certain Columbia trustees. Douglas was graduated from the Columbia law school and would be a natural to replace Ike.

Manchurian Crisis

A backstage controversy had been taking place between Washington and Tokyo for some time prior to Chinese intervention in Korea as to how far American troops should go toward the Manchurian border.

Secretary of State Acheson had argued that the U.S. and U.N. troops must stop before they got near the hydroelectric projects along the Yalu river, which supply the power for much of Manchuria. One of these, the Suioh dam, is among the largest in the world, and generates three-quarters as much power as Boulder dam. There are seven of these dams in North Korea, and the State Department warned that if we approached this area, the Chinese would react in about the same way as the people of Los Angeles if a Mexican army should approach Boulder dam, which supplies much of their water.

Therefore, the State Department long ago urged that U.N. troops stop 40 miles this side of the Manchurian border. The joint chiefs of staff heartily concurred in this, and this was one of the main points discussed with General MacArthur at Wake Island. At that time MacArthur agreed.

However, when he reached the 40-mile neutrality belt, he wired Washington for permission to send South Korean troops beyond to the Manchurian border. He said that they were to go on mopping-up missions and as military police to maintain order.

However, MacArthur's intelligence was faulty and the South Korean troops found themselves badly outnumbered. When they got into trouble, MacArthur wired Washington for permission to send U.S. troops to rescue them.

While the joint chiefs of staff didn't like this, they found it difficult to overrule the commander in the field, and wired permission.

Russo-Chinese Deal

It is believed that the Kremlin used this concentration of U.S. troops near Manchurian dams as one of its main arguments to bring Chinese Communists into the war, though undoubtedly there were other factors. These probably were:

1. Pledge of Russian air support. Hitherto in the Korean war no Russian pilots have been in combat and only a few Russian planes. In the last week, Russian planes have appeared from Manchuria.

2. A deal whereby China takes over Tibet, and later India, in return for intervention in Korea.

3. A deal whereby China takes over French Indo-China when and if the French are driven out, as now seems likely.

These were some of the things the State Department feared might happen if we tangled with China over Formosa; the reason Truman announced publicly that the American fleet would be withdrawn from Chinese waters when the situation was more stable; and why we have used dancing-on-eggs diplomacy in our relations with the Chinese government.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Plans Startling

Cabinet-Supreme Court Changes

By Bruce Biossart

With the entry into the Korean fighting of a fresh army of "alien Communist forces" as General MacArthur referred to the Chinese Communists, even the UN commander-in-chief apparently realizes that he spoke too soon when he said that the Korean war would be over soon. Pushed back almost to the Manchurian border, the North Koreans rallied and went over to the offensive.

Probably they could not have achieved this turnaround on their own. They did it through reinforcement by an undetermined number of Chinese Communist troops and the receipt of new Soviet weapons, including self-propelled guns, rockets, tanks and even jet fighter planes.

This counter-effort hardly classifies as full-scale intervention by the Chinese Reds. If that had been the Communist aim, it would have made much more sense to have joined the battle long before the United Nations forces were near Manchuria.

Stalin seems to have settled upon limited intervention instead. Why?

Military observers are making much of the fact that large hydro-electric developments important to the Manchurian economy lie on the Korean side of the border. They believe the Chinese may be bent primarily on keeping control of these facilities.

Others put more stress upon strictly military and political factors. They see the Red rally as an effort, for one thing, to pin down UN forces through the bitter Korean winter, so they can't be freed for rest and possible duty in other critical sectors of the world.

Furthermore, it's felt this attempt to keep the border areas in Red hands may be linked directly with a Russian desire to promote prolonged guerrilla warfare in Korea. The success of guerrilla fighting in Greece was due largely to the fact that the rebels could mount their offensives from the territory of surrounding Red nations. Once Yugoslavia, the chief helper, closed its border, the Greek guerrillas did not last long.

There's also the view that the Korean "Battle of the Bulge" may help Communists generally to salvage some of the "face" they have lost through the series of defeats inflicted by UN forces since the Inchon landing.

It is too early to tell how effective Stalin's limited intervention will prove. Already it has made real trouble for our forces. A battalion of the American First Cavalry Division had to be abandoned in a Red trap.

One thing is certain: The Reds can't recapture the bulk of North Korea and liberated South Korea without committing many more Chinese troops than are now engaged. To do that would be to risk World War III. Unless Russia is ready for another global conflict—and no expert thinks she is—the risk isn't likely to be taken.

Meantime, China's Red regime, by joining in the Korean war, has given one more convincing argument why it should not be admitted to the United Nations. Indeed, off their showing in Tibet and Korea, one can only conclude the Chinese Communists don't WANT to be admitted.

Each day's dispatches from Indo-China make it clearer that French forces there are in trouble. The region is vital to the maintenance of a free Asia, and the western world can't watch Communist advances with indifference.

But if we are to do our proper share in aiding the French in their fight, we must have accurate and complete information about what is happening. There's definite evidence that we aren't getting it.

Correspondents from the Indo-China front tell us that French military authorities are brutally censoring their stories. Censorship aimed at security can't be complained of; but blue-pencil which has no other objective but to conceal or distort the truth ought to be attacked with full vigor.

That's exactly what U.S. reporters are charging. They say their dispatches are chopped to pieces by French censors, who send them on to America without ever telling the newsmen what they've done to them. Editors in this country sometimes find the material unintelligible and therefore unusable.

French military men seem determined that the only accounts of the Indo-Chinese fighting we get will be their own official version handed out from headquarters.

And they seem bent, too, on doing everything possible to minimize the gravity of their plight. For example, a military spokesman told reporters one day that a French border force had successfully retreated to safety before Red onslaughts. Next day he was compelled by events to admit that this force was trapped and in danger of being wiped out.

One can't help wondering who the French think they're kidding. If this Communist drive has real power behind it, the French may need more than just arms aid from the other western nations. They may need military manpower.

But the longer they conceal the facts of their situation, the longer it will be before effective help can be brought to bear. It's time the French remembered who their friends are, and started trusting them with the truth.

The future of the Far East is in much too delicate a balance to permit this sort of petty trafficking in distortion and concealment.

Abundant Living

Deut. 6:5-9; 15:12-17; Prov. 3:7-8

THE OWNER'S STAMP

We have about rounded out our study of right personal and social attitudes for abundant living. We have outlined these attitudes in our minds; now they must be stamped within them—the study must become a stamp. Paul says: "Henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus" (Galatians 6:17). Or, as Moffatt puts it, "the owner's stamp of Jesus." The marks were the marks of the owner stamped in his flesh, as a symbol that the Owner's stamp was stamped into the mental and spiritual as well.

In India you see people who have the stamp of their god branded on their foreheads—put there by a hot iron, inerasable. The bulls of Shiva are branded with the Shiva trident and are his wherever they roam. Paul was thinking of this branding when he asserted that he was free from man because bound to the Man. He asserted his freedom through a deeper bondage. Strange way to find freedom—through complete bondage! And yet he saw that Christ was the fulfillment of his being, the way he was made to live—the Way. In another passage Paul says that we are "predestined" to "share the likeness of his Son" (Romans 8:29, Moffatt). We have argued for centuries over predestination. And yet it seems simple: If you carry out the destiny written into the constitution of your being you will be made in the likeness of Christ. You are predestined to it by the nature of your being and by the very nature of the universe. You are predestined to be a Christian, a Christlike person, if you follow the lines laid down in your being. This is your destiny, and you can escape from it only by sinning against that destiny. In other words, only by sinning against the God who wrote that destiny within you. So, "the Owner's stamp" is simply the outer sign of something that is stamped within you constitutionally. You give your consent to the constitution—the way becomes the Way. The Owner's stamp is branded upon you.

Every single organ, tissue, and nerve cell is made to work in a Christian way. That is their destiny, written into their constitutions.

O Christ, I see that Thou art the Way. If I fulfill the thing I am made for, I shall be like Thee. I dare not sin against that destiny. For I see it is not an arbitrary decree written in a book and imposed, but it is written in me and inescapable. Then help me to consent with all my being to be branded as Thine own. Amen.

Q. and A.

You and the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGON — (NEA) —

Q. When will dependents be allowed to go to Japan? And is the Army paying for medical care for dependents?

A. The Army has made no plans yet for allowing dependents to go to Japan. When the Army's medical services are available for dependents they are provided. The Army is not paying for medical care under any other circumstances.

Q. You wrote in a recent column that high school boys in the National Guard would be left in school if their units were called to active duty. My son was in high school and got in the Guard without his parents' consent. And when the order came for his group to go to active duty they took him. We live in Tennessee and I wrote to the State Adjutant General asking him not to take our son. He said there was nothing he could do about it. Is there?

A. It is obvious that the Tennessee Adjutant General, like those in other states, has chosen to ignore the general policy laid down by the Pentagon on this matter. And unfortunately there isn't much to be done about it. Your son is now in the U.S. Army and is subject to all of its regulations. The most you can do is write to your son's commanding officer, stating your reasons for wanting him to be let out of service.

Q. How does a person go about changing his draft board status to that of conscientious objector?

A. You'll have to get religion in an awful hurry and convince the draft board of your sincerity. If you didn't explain your conscientious objections to serving your country in the first questionnaire it's likely that your board will be pretty dubious about your change. But don't let that discourage you. A lot of guys in Korea got some conscientious objections to war overnight. Too. Only they didn't have the chance to get out as is furnished you.

The Doctor Says—

New Methods and Instruments

Aid Doctor in His Diagnosis

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

During the past 50 years or so a great many new methods have been developed for examining the human body and its various organs.

The simple methods which have been used almost as long as medicine has been a profession involve the use of the doctor's own senses. They include what the doctor can see, what he can feel, what he can tell by thumping (which is used most commonly on the chest), and what he can hear—usually through an instrument called the stethoscope. All these methods are still used by the physician, and are invaluable in making a diagnosis. Medical students are given long instruction in using their senses in these ways, and the really talented and experienced physician develops an almost uncanny skill in using his senses.

To these time-tested methods of physical examination there have been added a large number of special tests which aid the physician in making his diagnosis, depending on the treatment, and following the results of the treatment.

One of the most important of these is the X-ray, which aids in many ways. Practically no one tries to set a bone unless an X-ray has been made. The X-ray helps to make a diagnosis of tuberculosis earlier than almost any other method. It is used in the study of ulcer of the stomach and the liver, of the intestines.

The physical examination today is not complete unless the blood pressure has been taken with the aid of an instrument, and unless samples of blood and urine have been obtained from the patient, looked at under the microscope, and subjected to certain special tests. A least three tests are applied to the blood: counting the white cells, counting the red cells, and testing the iron in the blood for anemia. Minimum tests of the urine include its examination for pus, for sugar (diabetes), and for abnormal protein (usually a sign of Bright's disease). In addition to these routine studies both blood and urine can be tested in many other ways for various chemical disturbances.

Other Tests Available

The physician has a great many other ingenious instruments and tests which he can utilize if the symptoms of the patient indicate that they are needed. A few of these may be mentioned: the electrocardiograph for the study of the heart, the basal metabolism for the study of the thyroid, examination of the spinal fluid for the study of the nervous system, and a new instrument for recording the brain waves which is useful in epilepsy and other disorders of the brain.

Just this brief mention of a few of the new methods of diagnosis

Correctly Dressed For Cold Storage

Lt. M. W. Allen (left) of Spokane, Wash., and Lt. C. O. Grewe, Portland, Ore., question Chinese Communist soldiers captured in fighting above Hamhung, North Korea. Notice prisoners' well-padded clothes they wear for the approaching winter "cold war." U. S. 8th Army has confirmed that up to 16,000 Chinese troops are fighting in Korea and General MacArthur was reportedly taking a serious view of the intervention.

How's This For Nonchalance?

This American Marine, wounded in the fighting in Korea, calmly reads his mail as he receives a blood transfusion at a first aid station. Bitter fighting between the UN forces and North Koreans, backed by Chinese Communist troops, continued as Communist China gave every indication of preparing for a full-scale intervention in the war. ### Woman Nationalist Leader Captured

Blanca Canales, a leader of the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party in Jayuya, is fingerprinted prior to entering jail in Ponce, P. R. Police and Nationalists fought for hours in the streets of Jayuya during the abortive revolt in Puerto Rico. Mrs. Canales was captured and jailed as the police made a roundup of the Nationalists on the island. (AP Wirephoto)

U. S. School in Iceland
REYKJAVIK, Iceland — (P)—With two teachers already arrived from the United States, the first American school in Iceland will open at Keflavik airport this winter.

There are now between 500 and 600 Americans in Iceland, and with improved living quarters available more and more of them are bringing their families in. One hundred four children are living with their parents at the airport, most of them of American parentage but a few of Scandinavian origin.

Chinese Commander

General Lin Piao (above), one of the most successful commanders in the Communist victory over the Chinese Nationalists, now commands an estimated 600,000 Red troops in Manchuria and North China. These troops could be used to support the Chinese Communists now fighting in North Korea. (AP Wirephoto)

American-Icelandic parentage, since several Americans employed at the field have married Icelandic girls.

Now that the school has been established, it is anticipated that more families will be brought to Iceland.
